

STUDENT LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

Why are you passionate about student leadership development?

“I am passionate about student leadership development because college is the ideal place to hone your leadership skills, which can include learning how to handle failure. Many of the leadership experiences I had in college directly inform and contribute to my career, and I know they helped to make me a better person overall”.

Favorite quote:

“Remember that the end doesn’t justify the means, the means are the ends. If we want joy and music and friendship and laughter at the end of our revolution, we must have joy and music and friendship and laughter along the way.” – Gloria Steinem
